Swami Dharmabandhu Ji

Swami Ji Views

Swami Dharmabandhu is a firm believer “children must be concern of every one”. Political consideration must not hinder interaction and exchange ideas. For these purpose Pransala Trust (managed by Swamiji) conduct several programmes every year. The list of resource persons includes top scientist, defense personal, former supreme court chief luminaries from various fields. Swami Dharmabandhu insists that children must be nurtured to give the best as Gandhi Ji said,

“By education, I mean all around drawing out of the best in child and man body mind and spirit”.

The Dharmandhu model of discharging social & cultural responsibility focuses on the future of the young and more importantly on their role in serving the nation. Pransala Trust has been working towards this aim by organizing campus and imparting Swamiji views among the students.

Swamiji after gaining knowledge of the Vedic scriptures and visiting prominent religious places throughout the country, finally decided the objectives of his life to prepare good people who as Aristotle once desired would be good citizens also and create a vibrant society. He just came and stayed in a thatched hut and took up the social cause, initially focussing on poverty alleviation in the nearby villages. Local folks extended all support and derived the benefits emerging out of well guided initiatives.

Swamiji strongly believe that a nation can never become vibrant without active participation and service of their teachers and teacher education is the best ways to serve people or nation more disciplined.

Director's Message

Dear Students,

“TEACHERS ARE THE BUILDERS OF NATIONS and THE SHAPERS OF DESTINIES”

To turn the raw mud into an article of beauty, to mould raw metal into priceless artifacts is indeed a fabulous task, but transforming the young ones into ideal teachers and educators is more prodigious. The concept of education is changing all over the world, so how could India remain rooted in the archaic concept of education?

A new concept of learning and teaching as well as evaluation is being introduced. Teaching should not remain confined to the four walls of a classroom or within the covers of a text-book. Teaching should not be cumbersome but a joyful experience. And the evaluation of knowledge should not be confined to a few sheets of paper but should be a continuous process of learning and evaluation of scholastic and co-scholastic activities. I too believe in the process and have put it into practice through Swami Dharmabandhu College of Education . Our excellence has been in imparting quality education with well equipped infrastructure, resources, placements, team of excellent experienced & professional faculty members from distinguished domains committed & dedicated towards new generation teacher. Students indeed are future and hope of the nation. It is endeavoring to mould them into ideal and responsible teachers. Teachers are the torch bearers to guide our nation on the road of progress and prosperity.

Best wishes
